

The Social Scene

As I spend another day reflecting on recent events at our much-loved yacht club I must say that we are definitely blessed! Our club is full of wisdom, tradition, and much more. Many of our newer members, especially power boaters, are still trying to “learn the ropes”. We are curious, ready, and willing to do what we can. Additionally, we appreciate the fact that we have a yacht club available - and are thankful that, due to our beloved sail boaters, we are able to enjoy the benefits of our organization!

Thank you Wayne Anderson for teaching us the particulars of what it takes for a yacht club to be in existence – or should I say thank you John and Joan Anderson for educating him!?!

The newer members of our club rely on the wisdom and knowledge passed down from our more seasoned members. Our hope is that someday we come to know the history of our club as well as those traditions which are held near and dear to those who have “been there, done that”. We are anxiously awaiting those volumes of wisdom to be passed down and are ready to carry on that which “makes us who we are”. Knowledge which is shared will help us all create an even more dynamic organization!

This month’s social event was quite a success! Thank you Joan and John Anderson for the wonderful spaghetti sauce you created! You outdid yourself with both the meat and vegetarian medley! Who needs spaghetti noodles when you have Joan’s special sauce recipe? Additional thanks to all of our club members who contributed a variety of scrumptious recipes and fixings’ to go along with our Italian theme.

Aida Klepinger - thank you for helping in the kitchen; you are always a blessing! Brandi Vitier, you totally “pimped up” the cold pasta salad! Terry Hooper, we know you aren’t one of the social officers but you are carrying as much of the load as we are. Wayne Anderson, you are always a great support for “picking up the slack”. Shanan Friesenhahn – your recipe advice absolutely rocked! Diane Wiser – your slicing and dicing skills were a great help. Christina Lyons – you are always so helpful, our dishes would never get washed without you.

Everyone who pitched in at the end of the evening is so on our “We Owe You” list! If we missed someone, we apologize, but are still so thankful for your assistance!

Next month’s annual hamburger and hotdog event is sure to be a success...I am sorry that I will be missing it but am certain it will be a great success!

We love the lake!
